Virtual Classroom Training

Description

With Virtual Classroom training, we hold real, live training courses with an experienced, live trainer, and up to 10 participants. The difference is that the course is held in a virtual classroom environment.
People find that it takes 10-15 minutes to become used to the virtual environment, and it then feels like a normal classroom. They all see the same slides and white board. They can talk, discuss and interact, just like in a normal classroom.

Methods

We use the platform of your choice. We have adapted our course material and exercises to the virtual environment, to give participants as full an experience as possible. We send any pre-work and a copy of the material to the participants before the training sessions, and follow up after the sessions with post-work.

Advantages

- No travel
- No extra expenses
- No training room required
- Each participant is at their normal work –desk
- 2 or 4 hour sessions, so participants are more present at work
- Recorded sessions so participants can review the sessions afterwards

Audience

Any group or individual who:
- Can only dedicate small periods of time for training
- Wishes to avoid travelling to a training course
- Is pressed for time
- May miss a session due to other priorities
- Wishes to be able to repeat the course in their own time

Courses

All of our courses, except "Presentation Skills" and "Facilitating Meetings and Workshops" can be held in the Virtual Classroom.
